

Zurich Life Science Week

May 4-8 2015

Aim: Train life scientists in how to best seize job opportunities outside academia.

Program: 5 week days with evening classes from 17:00 -19:00 h and a networking aperitif with the career coaches on the final day

Venue: Irchel campus

Participants: 20 life scientists: PhD students and postdoctoral fellows

Partners: ETHZ Career Center (ETHZ CC), University of Zurich Career Services (UZH CS), Dr. Monika Clausen & Netzwerkpartner

Trainers:

Dr. Roger Gfrörer – Head UZH Career Services

Since the foundation 2008, Roger Gfrörer is head of the UZH Career Services. Before, he worked in the HR Department of the UZH. There he moved 2007 after having finished his PhD in Human Resource Management at the Chair in HRM (UZH), where he was senior assistant for 5 years. In the 1990s, he worked 5 years at Tamedia, 4 years at IBM Switzerland and 2 seasons as a ski instructor. Roger Gfrörer has a deep understanding of research and teaching processes at the university and has profound knowledge of the Swiss education system as he also teaches at the university of applied science and a higher vocational college. His approach is to empower the students for their next career steps, helping them to focus on their resources.

Dr. Monika Clausen – Personal Development Trainer and Career Consultant, Dr. Monika Clausen & Netzwerkpartner

Dr. Monika Clausen is engaged as a trainer and coach at universities, in the private industry and with individual clients. She has a PhD in biology, a Bachelor in Business Administration and training in leadership, adult education and solution focus coaching. Her professional experiences outside science include assignments as a headhunter for highly educated individuals as well as working experience as an expert and line manager. She uniquely links natural sciences and management knowledge with a resource oriented and solution focused attitude.

Martin Ghisletti – Head ETH Career Center

Martin Ghisletti joined ETH in 2010 to establish and run the ETH Career Center. Martin has an extensive knowledge of the jobs market, and is familiar with what companies think and do as part of their university recruitment and general careers management activities.

His valuable skills and experience built up on the basis of ten years in various HR Management positions, many career counseling and -coaching, performance reviews and interviews. He is happy to share them with students and doctoral students, both in personal counseling and at events, helping them to prepare their careers. He has a degree in business administration from University of St. Gallen and is currently doing an executive MBA in Leadership at INSEAD.

Inés Constantin – ETH Career Center

Inés Constantin has been working at ETH Career Center since 2011. Since then Ines has advised and supported ETH students and doctoral students on starting their careers, and has organized several careers events for students and companies. Before joining ETH, Inés worked for ALSTOM (Switzerland) Ltd as a Communications Manager and over the past two years, she was the global University Relations Manager for ALSTOM Power. At DaimlerChrysler Inés was responsible for the preparation of an International Training Program concept. Inés holds an International Master in Media, Communications and Cultural Studies from the Universities of Florence and Kassel.

Program outline

Day	Content	Trainer
Mon 4.5.2015 17-19h	Career resources I: An approach to a self-directed career management I	Roger Gfrörer UZH CS
Tue 5.5.2015 17-19h	Job opportunities: hidden labor markets	Monika Clausen Dr. Clausen & Netzwerkpartner
Wed 6.5.2015 17-19h	Self-Marketing and Networking	Inés Constantin ETHZ CC
Thu 7.5.2015 17-19h	Preparation for Job Interviews and Interview Simulations	Martin Ghisletti ETHZ CC
Fri 8.5.2015 17-19h	Career resources II: An approach to a self-directed career management II	Roger Gfrörer UZH CS
Fry 8.5.2015 19h-21h	Wrap up aperitif with all the trainers and participants	All

Credit Point: Life Science Zurich Graduate School will award the full attendance of the workshop with 1 credit point

Application: Submit your CV and motivation letter (outlining your interest in joining the course) through the LSZYSN website until April 17, 2015: <http://zlsz.lszysn.ch>

Applicants will be notified by April 30, 2015

Contact

E-mail: info@lszysn.ch